California Awards $100 Million to Cities, Counties and Continuums of Care to Help People Experiencing Homelessness During COVID-19 Pandemic

SACRAMENTO - California has awarded $100 million in emergency grant funding to California counties, Continuums of Care, and the state's 13 largest cities to help protect the health and safety of people experiencing homelessness during the COVID-19 pandemic.

On March 17, 2020, Governor Gavin Newsom signed SB 89, which was approved unanimously by the state Legislature. SB 89 authorized a total appropriation of up to $1 billion to provide assistance to help fight the spread of COVID-19. On March 18, 2020, Governor Newsom's Administration allocated $100 million in emergency funding from SB 89 to local governments to help protect this vulnerable population and reduce the spread of COVID-19 by safely getting individuals into shelter and providing immediate housing options.

The Business, Consumer Services and Housing Agency's Homeless Coordinating and Financing Council sent out award letters today.

"The fast action by the legislature in approving this funding has been matched by the swift action taken by our Homeless Coordinating and Financing Council to get this money out the door and to the local jurisdictions where it's needed," said Governor Newsom. "This is money that will be immediately available to help those who are homeless – among the most vulnerable to COVID-19."

California's 13 largest cities, or cities that are also a county, will receive $42,968,750, while the state's 58 counties will receive $27,343,750 and California's 44 Continuums of Care will receive $29,687,500. Allocations can be found here.

The funding is intended for measures to help prevent and contain COVID-19 and can be used for medically indicated services and supplies, such as testing and hand-washing stations. It can also be used for such things as acquiring new shelters, supplies and equipment for emergency shelter operations, increasing shelter capacity, street outreach, and acquiring locations to place individuals who need to be isolated because of COVID-19 illness or exposure.

Using Continuum of Care Program Funds for Infectious Disease Preparedness and Response

March 13, 2020

Continuum of Care (CoC) Program grant funds can be a useful resource to support communities' public health outbreak preparedness and response efforts.

The Need

It is essential for CoCs to be familiar with preparedness strategies and intervention measures and to work with key stakeholders to prevent and control the spread of infectious diseases among people experiencing homelessness.

Core aspects of preparedness and response activity can be supported with CoC resources. The following chart has been developed to help CoC Collaborative Applicants, HMIS Leads and recipients understand the kinds of activity that are covered under specific component types. The following are eligible costs to support infectious disease preparedness and response activities and the program component or line item that may be charged.

Grant Type	Activity Description
Planning Grant	Conducting local planning to ensure that homeless service providers are prepared to respond rapidly and effectively to emergencies and infectious disease outbreaks in their programs.
	Establishing partnerships with public health departments and local public works to ensure their services support safe and sanitary environments where homeless people present.
	Developing and delivering trainings related to preventing or responding to infectious disease; producing educational material for the CoC.
	Creating a disaster response plan for the CoC
Coordinated Entry System Grant(s)	Reviewing and modifying workflow, intake, assessment and service approaches that may impact participant program access to services and housing.
	Establishing new or different locations to access CoC services such as expanding or contracting certain approaches or customizing interventions for different subpopulations based on vulnerability to public health outbreaks.
HMIS Grant(s)	Customizing Homeless Management Information System (HMIS) workflows and assessments to track exposure, diagnosis, and clearance in shelters and housing programs. Training on new processes are also supported.
	Establishing automated alerts to all staff at housing programs to see HMIS alerts for households and engage with them based on the guidance provided and coordinate care.
All Grant Types: Supportive Services	Helping households living in supportive housing acquire essential supplies (food, water, medications, transportation, information) during crises. Hiring more staff on a temporary or permanent basis to help deliver services may be required to support infectious disease preparedness. Recipients whose program budgets already include street outreach may engage and help people living in unsheltered locations acquire essential supplies (including food, water, medications, toiletries, transportation, information) during crises.
All Grant Types (except PH:RRH): Operations	Essential furnishings, maintenance, and equipment that support operating housing during crises. Hiring more staff on a temporary or permanent basis to help operating housing may be required to support infectious disease preparedness. (Keep in mind, operating funds cannot be used in the same structure as rental assistance funds.)

PLANNING CONSIDERATIONS

- CoC Recipients: review your spending history. Recipients often do not have fully expended grants. Your project may have unspent resources available.
- If your CoC grant budget needs an amendment to incorporate public health outbreak activities, please contact your HUD CPD field office immediately for additional assistance on how to expedite this process.
